"Where do you live, Sam Brown?" I said.
"You are so spick-span clean;
think the piano your wife plays
Is some new wash machine!"
Oh, no," and Sambo rolled his eyes;
"She wash for me an' de kid;
Although I ain't denyin'
My Emmerline used ter did.

"I got a good whitewashin' job,
Errands I runs all day;
We lives like white folks now, we duz,
On dis here weekly pay!
Dat boy o' ourn, he goes ter school
And reads jest like a man;
He tole us how we oughter live.

On dat installment plan! We's got de puttiest little place
You most has ever seed;
I had no friends ter borry from;
I hadn't, sah, no, indeed!
But dis here man talked up and down;
He said I earned enough
To let us live in decent style;
He give us all dat stuff.

"My Emmerline is proud—who-ee! She's got blue chancy dishes; An' every Sadday somethin' mo—Putty nigh all she wishes. As long as we bole keep at work We'll keep dis home so fine; But ef I hadn't er seed dis man It never would a' been mine!"

BRUIN MADE HIS OWN EXECUTIONER BY A RUSE.

Utah Farmers Organize and Arrange Gun so That Huge Bear Pulls Trigger on Himself.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. nt Pleasant, Utah, Aug. 1-A big bear was killed in a novel manner in the hills east of this city one day during the week. The animal had been bothering around the sheep herd owned and managed by John K. en, and as he was daily becoming more ate it was decided that he should be made away with. This was not as easy a matter as might be supposed, however, as the bear was a bright old chap and confined the bear was a bright old chap and confined all of his visits to the dark hours of the night, so that he had never been seen, and there was little likelihood that he ever would be. It was therefore necessary to resort to unusual means to do away with him. It was determined, after the matter had been duly considered, that bruin should kill himself. In making his nocturnal visits to the hord the bear siways came through a swamp and aiways followed a trail which he had made. Alongside this trail a shotgun, loaded for bear, was set. It was correctly ranged, cocked and a string attached to the trigger, and across the trail tached to the trigger, and a string attached to the trigger, and across the trail in such an angle as to cause the gun's discharge just as the animal was in front of the gun, the discharge to be effected by his pressing the string himself. The scheme worked like a charm. The same night bruin took a walk to his death over the path. He ran into the string, the trigger was pulled and the entire charge of shot landed in the bear's side, death following soon after. The hide has been taken to Manti for the bounty. It is expected that more can be captured in that way.

Impressive Ceremonies Will Attend Celebration of Golden Jubilee by St. John of Nepomuk's Parish.

St. John of Nepomuk's Parish is in gala attire to-day, in honor of Mgr. Joseph Hassoun, upon the occasion of his golden jubilee, and the Catholics of St. Louis, especially those of his parish, are paying high

It has been just fifty years since Mgr. Hassoun was ordained a priest. Thirty-nine of these years he has spent as pastor of the St. John of Nepomuk Church. During this time not only the Bohemian Church of St. Louis, but the Catholic Church of the whole country has been strengthened by his efforts. The festival began last night with a serenade from the school yard by the St. Cecilia Choir of this parish. Mgr. Hasties which have been invited, will take part. Among the societies invited are the Polisa societies of St. Louis, the Slovak Society and the Croatian Society.

The parade will form in front of the church, and the different streets of the parish will be traversed. The parade will come back to the church in time for the solemn high mass, which is to be held at 10 o'clock. The Reverend Father Goller of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, and a close friend of Mgr. Hassoun for many years, will be the celebrant at this mass.

The Reverend Father Joseph Kondelka, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Cleveland, O., will deliver the sermon. Bishop Gennon will be present.

After the services the societies will again form a parade in front of the church and march over the streets of the parish.

At 3 o'clock song vespers will be held in the church, Bishop Gleinnon probably officiating.
